"Wings of Desire is one of cinema's loveliest city symphonies. Bruno Ganz is Damiel, an angel perched atop buildings high over Berlin who can hear the thoughts—fears, hopes, dreams—of all the people living below. But when he falls in love with a beautiful trapeze artist, he is willing to give up his immortality and come back to earth to be with her. Made not long before the fall of the Berlin Wall, this stunning tapestry of sounds and images, shot in black and white and colour by the legendary Henri Alekan, forever made the name of director Wim Wenders synonymous with film art." Description Source: Criterion Collection

We welcome artists, the NPCC community, film buffs and film students from all over the city to come and enjoy this community screening. The collection of films selected for Arthouse Cinema at NPCC have been chosen to offer a source of inspiration, conversation, and connection, and to bring certain artistic elements to light and screen that may speak to artists looking for a creative spark. A short Q&A session will be held at the end of each screening. Admission is free with a suggested small pay-what-you-can donation of $10.00, and snacks and refreshments (alcoholic and non-alcoholic) will be available for purchase. No outside food or drinks permitted. Enjoy responsibly.

"A rare glimpse into the mind of one of cinema's most enigmatic visionaries, David Lynch: The Art Life offers an absorbing portrait of the artist, as well as an intimate encounter with the man himself. From his secluded home and painting studio in the Hollywood Hills, a candid Lynch conjures people and places from his past, from his boyhood to his experiences at art school to the beginnings of his filmmaking career—in stories that unfold like scenes from his movies. This remarkable documentary by Jon Nguyen, Rick Barnes, and Olivia Neergaard-Holm travels back to Lynch's early years as a painter and director drawn to the phantasmagoric, while also illuminating his enduring commitment to what he calls "the art life": 'You drink coffee, you smoke cigarettes, and you paint, and that's it.' Description Source: Criterion Collection

Catalan architect Antoni Gaudi (1852–1926) designed some of the world's most astonishing buildings, interiors, and parks; Japanese director Hiroshi Teshigahara constructed some of the most aesthetically audacious films ever made.

In Antonio Gaudi, their artistry melds in a unique, enthralling cinematic experience. Less a documentary than a visual poem, Teshigahara's film takes viewers on a tour of Gaudi's truly spectacular architecture, including his massive, still-unfinished masterpiece, the Sagrada Familia basilica in Barcelona. With camera work as bold and sensual as the curves of his subject's organic structures, Teshigahara immortalizes Gaudi in film. Description Source: Criterion Collection

"Julian Schnabel's tribute to his friend and fellow painter Jean-Michel Basquiat is less a conventional biopic than an impressionistic, sensory immersion into the much-mythologized downtown-Manhattan art world of the 1980s.

Jeffrey Wright, in his first lead film role, stars as the visionary artist whose rise from graffiti tagger to art star forces him to confront the glare of sudden fame, along with racism, his own struggles with addiction, and the difficulties of being self-determining and free in America. Bolstered by an ensemble cast that includes a sublime performance by David Bowie channelling Andy Warhol, Schnabel's directorial debut—presented here in the filmmaker's own luminous black-and-white remastering—is a profoundly expressive elegy for a radiant life cut short. Description Source: Criterion Collection

"Hong Kong, 1962: Chow Mo-Wan (Tony Leung Chiu Wai) and Su Li-Zhen (Maggie Cheung Man Yuk) move into neighbouring apartments on the same day. Their encounters are formal and polite—until a discovery about their spouses creates an intimate bond between them. At once delicately mannered and visually extravagant, Wong Kar Wai's In the Mood for Love is a masterful evocation of romantic longing and fleeting moments. With its aching soundtrack and exquisitely abstract cinematography by Christopher Doyle and Mark Lee Ping Bing, this film has been a major stylistic influence on the past two decades of cinema, and is a milestone in Wong's redoubtable career." We invite guests to observe the use of colour and light in this film. Description Source: Criterion Collection

ETOBICOKE QUILTERS GUILD

Visit our website for details:

www.etobicokequiltersguild.com

Formed in 1975 the Etobicoke Quilters' Guild will be celebrating its 50th Anniversary this year. EQG is a thriving group of people who gather regularly to express their creativity through all aspects of quilting. Members have access to our bright and spacious fibre art studio two days per week, where they can work on projects in a supportive and helpful environment.

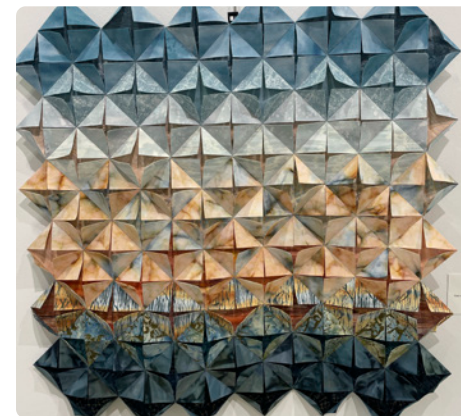

EQG has almost everything a quilter could ask for: layout tables, cutting boards, rulers, rotary cutters, and sewing machines – just bring your fabric and ideas. We are able to offer a number of different programs and learning opportunities across a variety of levels of ability. Why not come along and share the projects you have been working on?

Our popular Learn to Quilt Program will teach you how to manage your project, so you achieve great results. You will learn for the first time, or brush up on, rotary cutting and machine piecing skills. Layering, basting, and quilting will also be demonstrated and practiced. The confidence you gain will encourage you to take other quilting classes or workshops.

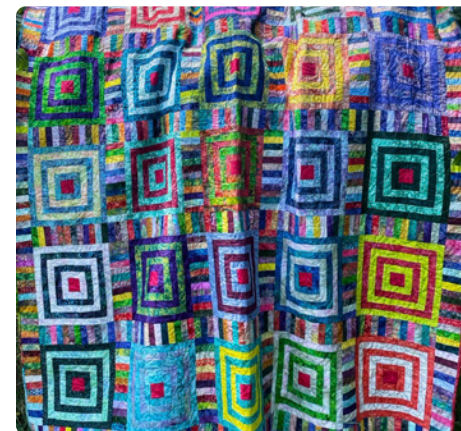

The Etobicoke Quilters' Guild is proud of its "Comfort Quilt" program which began in 1989 to create unique and beautiful quilts to be donated to charities. A comfort quilt can be an ideal practice piece when learning the craft or trying a new pattern. Come and give it a try at Studio C.

As part of your membership of the Guild, you can join our monthly meetings where we have speakers from all walks of the quilting world. Tea and coffee are provided and the library is open for your perusal.

Still not convinced you should join us? Please feel free to pop into Studio C on a Monday or Wednesday between 9am and 4pm and see for yourself what we do, or come along as a guest to our monthly meeting.

GOTHIC LETTERING

- Thursday, Sep 18 - Thursday, Oct 30, 2025
7:00 p.m. – 9:00 p.m.
- Price: Free
- Sessions: 7 Thursdays
- Instructor: Mark Lurz
- Level: All levels

Gothic Letters are characterized by dramatic, dark letterforms with an emphasis on vertical strokes and ornate details. This course will be broken down into three separate mini courses. The first section (Sep. 18, 25) will look at Textura. These narrow, compact forms are upright with straight angular lines that give it a sharp calligraphic appearance. The second section (Oct. 2, 16) will look at Fraktur, a specialty and favourite of Mark's. The last section (Oct. 16, 23) will look at Rotunda whose more rounded shapes demonstrate more clearly the Carolingian roots than its straight lined and angular blackletter siblings. Each of these two-week studies can be taken individually or get a discount for taking all three.
